

Wild, Woolly West Setting For Junior Class Play Thursday

The Wild and Woolly West returns to Weiser this Thursday and Friday, January 26 and 27, when the Junior class of Weiser high school presents a three-act melodrama of the Gay 90's, "Deadwood Dick," under the direction of Marvin Truogler. The play will be presented at Hoover hall until curtain time set at 8:15 both nights.

The play is built around Deadwood Dick, a character created by Edward Wheeler. A total of 64 novels were written by Wheeler about Deadwood Dick. Tom Taggart, author of the play, took the most exciting situation, the more colorful characters and the most amusing dialogue from Wheeler's novels and fashioned the melodrama.

Not Harris, also Deadwood Dick, and Wild Bill Hickok are the heroes of the saga. The play is played by Roy Gentry and LeRoy Long. Calamity Jane, portrayed by Betty Bell, the type personified by Mae West.

Others in the cast are Lily Bloom, a tender prairie flower; Sharon DeParker; Rose Luby; Lela Coates; Blackman Johnson, a true-black villain; Bob Henz; Judge Nix; Gary Sider; Jim Palmer; Karen Sverre; Pong; Jim; Charles; and Alvin. All are from Weiser.

One Dale and Frank Wilder of Midvale were in Weiser today on business.

BEFORE—Shown above is the snow-stopped hill on the site of the new East Side school before L. C. Cheney's earth-moving equipment went to work on it Tuesday afternoon. The site is north of East Park Street between Eighth and Ninth Streets. The bulldozer and a TD-24 bulldozer appear rather innocent as it awaits the "go" signal from the engineer directing the face lifting of the property.

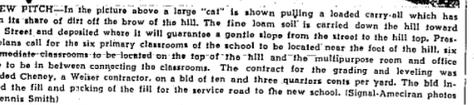

AFTER—The same bulldozer looks a little more formidable above after literally tearing about nine feet of soil off of the top of the hill and bulldozing it over to the west side of the property near Monroe Creek. The fresh mound of dirt represents a little over four hours of work by the powerful machine.

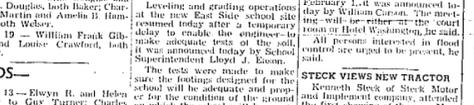

A NEW PITCH—In the picture above a large "cat" is pushing a loaded pile of graded carry-all which has taken its share of dirt off the brow of the hill. The "cat" is being used to level the hill toward Park Street and deposited where it will guarantee a gentle slope from the street to the hill. Plans call for the six primary classrooms of the school to be located near the foot of the hill, six intermediate classrooms to be located on the top of the hill and the multipurpose room and office space to be in between connecting the classrooms. The contract for grading and leveling was awarded Cheney, a Weiser contractor, on a bid of ten and three quarters cents per yard. The bid included the fill and picking of the fill for the service road to the new school. (Signal-American photos by Dennis Smith)

Donkey Basketball Is Slated By FFA Here On February 2

A donkey basketball game has been scheduled for the East Side gymnasium, February 2, at 7:30 p. m. by the Weiser chapter of the FFA. It was announced today by Calvin Crandall, advisor for the sponsoring group. Crandall said the game will be in entertainment and similar to one held by the FFA five years ago before a major freeze at the gym. Local basketball players will rise the basketball donkeys furnished by Cliff Dunham of Crooked Creek. The horses will wear rubber shoes. "They are horse-shoed," he added in response to a question. "There will be an advance sale of tickets by the members of the FFA."

Due to the recent decline in the fed cattle market the Weiser Livestock Commission Co. has had numerous calls from growers wanting our ideas and market quotations on this matter.

We can only rely to you the market quotations we receive from Portland, Ore. and other markets. Many people calling said they had heard a number of feeders in this area are sending their cattle to other local markets. They ask why?

Our only explanation is... weighing condition. If you feeders will give a good weighing condition on your cattle, at least a 3% shrink we can get as much here as you can get at any market and save you the freight and other expenses involved in moving your stock away from your local market.
