THE NEWS OF THE WORLD
LONDON, THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 1915

A RUINED WUNDERLAND

The small island of the Great Lakes, which was once a paradise for the world's youth, is now a scene of desolation and ruin. The once beautiful shores are now a mass of rubble and debris, and the once peaceful waters are now a sea of fire and smoke.

The cause of this disaster is the result of the war, which has brought the islands of the Great Lakes into a state of total chaos. The once peaceful waters are now a sea of fire and smoke, and the once beautiful shores are now a mass of rubble and debris.
