George Hubbard, assessor and ex-officio tax collector of Washington county, is about to get himself into a peck of trouble.

It seems that certain parties living in Ada county, who have been in the habit of paying the necessary tax on their property to the tax collector, claimed they have also been compelled to pay the same amount to the collector of Washington county, who claims, their stock is grazing in this county.

The parties claim their herds are all in Ada county, and that Hubbard made himself liable in collecting tax on property in this county.

Accordingly five complaints were registered against him yesterday, before Sol. Hasbrouck, clerk of the district court. The complaining persons are: Nichols & Johnson, Wm. Stewart, Henry Ervin, J. W. Peters and Short & Rice, all prominent stockmen living in Payette valley, this county.

Chisholm & Badger and Gray & Stewart, lawyers, of this city will make the life of the assessor of Washington county a decided burden for the next few weeks to come they having been engaged by the above mentioned stockmen to right their alleged wrongs.—Boise Daily Sun. Dec. 20th, 1890.

We wish to correct the above item, in the particular, that the name of our assessor and tax collector, is not George Hubbard, but is Frank M. Hubbard; his post office is "Weiser" Idaho. He is now and has always been ready to meet the assumed claims of these parties, in the courts of the state. Mr. Hubbard is ready to have his title made a decision at the pleasure of these hired attornies of the plaintiffs, at any time and thinks he can stand the decided burden, as soon as these plaintiffs can put up the fees to their attornies. Mr. Hubbard will be entertained in all his official acts in this matter because he was in the right and brought satisfactory papers to time.

A Surplus of Miners.

As is usually the case where rich strikes are made in a mining camp the "rush" discoveries reported from here have brought in many more miners than are now wanted. All the old miners of the camps here and at Delamar are employed, and a good many of the comers have found employment but there is now work at the season of the year for all. Those who have come in we would advise miners to remain away until they see a notice in the Avalanche that there is work for them. Capitalists are coming in and a good many new deals are being made, but in most instances but little work will be done until spring.

The above was slipped from the Idaho Avalanche of Dec. 20th, and it seems to us, the best refutation we can make, to the reply in the same number of the Avalanche to our welcome of Mr. Sommer, copy to Weiser, which recently appeared in the Leader.

We are willing however, to admit, that we are squelched and done up; and that we were never much or hard to "drop" anyway.

We cannot help though; but to refer to the fact, that now invitations appear in our columns similar to the above, requesting any class of law abiding people, either workingmen or otherwise, to "come away from our nice rural village, and that our village is not losing any of its citizens, but on the contrary all in our prosperous manner are busy contributing and inspiring confidence to those at home and abroad. There is always room and employment here for all who may choose to come; besides we are well satisfied with the class of immigrants we are receiving from Silver City, all of whom seem to have eminently innocent views as to the relative advantages and disadvantages of Weiser and Silver. Has the editor of the Avalanche:

We are in receipt of volume one number one of the Weiser Signal, published by R. E. Lockwood. We have always maintained that competition is the life of business and trade; and that there is plenty of room in this place for all who wish to locate here in any branch of business. And that we hold where the new business is to occupy position to us as well as when it is otherwise. We welcome the Signal to the field of journalism and hope the relations between the two Weiser papers will be mutually agreeable, pleasant and profitable to time.

The Democratic claim that upon the election in 1870 is now that the election in 1870 is now that the election of last that Clay county, Idaho, was stolen by 300 Democrats and that only about eleven hundred majority in New York was cast by inmates of public institutions on Long Island and the suprem[illegible] of New York has recently decided that that class are not legal voters. It is too late to help Mr. Blaine, but it will do to bear in mind in 1892.—Keota, Iowa, Ada. Dec. 11th, 1890.

We are again under the necessity of issuing the Leader on six pages sheets. This is an accident however, that is liable to occur to any paper, that depends on patent sides: between the bills that are supposed to furnish us our patents and an incompetent system of carriage, that is supposed to convey and deliver them to us, we as a newspaper, as usual, are victimized and left.
