THE WEISER SIGNAL.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1892.

No compromise in sight.

There is a manifest weakness in the U. S. Senator's physical endurance department.

The Ohio campaign is being made as exciting as though the result was in doubt.

It looks as though the Steelmen of the entire country would have to go over until next winter.

He who has never heard a political fish-fight is loser of his honor or his honesty.

What percentage of the people is afraid, represented by bankers and board of trade men?

The son-in-law of the late Dom Pedro, by going to Brazil, shows that his ambitions largely overbalance his good sense.

If that Jersey idea of "organizing the Christian vote" should become popular, some politicians might find themselves hunting for a job.

The nomination of Gen. J. G. Straughan as Surveyor General of Idaho has been confirmed by the United States Senate by a unanimous vote.

The administration is determined to hold out against compromise. It's whole hog or none. Compromise only means so much gained by gold bugs, say they.

Walter Dilly is now making faces at Berlin town council because it had the nerve to refuse to provide, at public expense, a playground for his royal highness.

Of all the fool disputes, those that occur on religion are the most useless. Every one knows nobody, and means nothing, except that men should control his prosperity or unhappiness.

What an insane thing it was to beat the Valkyrie so fast. The Scottish will be so—mad that they will go back home and force us to lose some million bonds for us per year.

The man who didn't know exactly how the yacht race would turn out has yet to be found. Those who lost money did it by betting against their judgment. What a curious animal man is, anyway.

Washington county warrants are a drag on the market at six-bits on the dollar. This is all on account of the war on silver, begun in 1873 by the Republican party and unbound in 1892 by the Big O of the White House who has betrayed his party.

Keep your eye skinned for the job that scheme to annex the Territory of Lower California to the United States. If we are not mistaken that scheme is backed by an American syndicate, which claims to have bought the property, is merely a blind.

If Senator Dieckburn has the proof that the European banking house of Rothschild carried gold from the United States at a loss, for the purpose of forcing a panic and influencing legislation, he should keep no time in producing it.

The Knights Templars should have no complaint thoroughly disciplined their Preacher having skipped, leaving a shortage of something like $100. He deserves the smooth-running machine of Chicago or New York man could keep under a twelve haul.

The politician's view of the Vancouver nomination was eminently practical. They said it was to get to the west side. You turn this dun down and he votes big campaign contributions, we'll get. See?" The senators saw and Ambassador Van Allen makes his entre upon the stage of diplomacy.

The Captain of the British yacht Valkyrie now realizes bitterly the truth of the old saying, "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip." In the imagination Valkyrie's the Shamrock. Monday night the American yacht Vigilant easily sailed him. At the end of the race the distance between the American cup and the British lip was 13 miles."

Senator Daniels, of Virginia, struck right home when he said in the senate: "You strike a silver dollar with a sledge hammer and you knock the dollar out of it. It's no longer a dollar; you've left a bullion." The same is true of the people; tear the government with free silver and you destroy the people—all except the bullion kings, who will take the gold dollar, and by the expenses of the people will recoin it into silver dollars. Such is the result of the free silver dollar.
