That's what a young fellow said in our store the other day. In less than a minute he had changed his mind.

For we told him what you probably know already—that, unless a suit is all pure wool, it will not wear well and it simply cannot be made to hold its shape.

Clothcraft All-Wool Clothes

Have you tried one of these suits? Adding Clothcraft suits to our line almost hits the Signal Genuine that means all pure wool. We bought the suits very low—that's how we could offer them to you at a small price. But they are the kind that will wear and look like the best suits you own.

Make all Serve in Army.

A Los Angeles, California ex-sheriff says:

"Lieutenant General Adna R. Chaffee, retired, who is now a resident of this city, was not long ago interviewed by the New York Herald, in which he said that every man between the ages of twenty-one and forty-five should be required to serve in the militia. General Chaffee said that the only way to keep the country free from militarism was to have a good militia. General Chaffee said he would favor the plan of having each Congressional district in the nation contribute for a certain number of recruits to the Army establishment, and that in this way one thousand of these recruits at the end of every year would be mustered out of the service and the United States would have a reserve army of 500,000 trained men.

The general did not believe in compulsory military service, and said the country would never win a war with them. Neither would standing armies ever be used to transport the army, he thought.

A dispatch from Gen. Grant at Ft. Dougherty, of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, and Captain Fowler, of the U. S. Regulars, to Gen. Wm. A. Shipp, of the Oregon National Guard, in which he asked the opinion of what was the matter with the Massachusetts passenger during the summer, was an interesting one. Captain Shepherd, who belongs to the Schuylkill regiment of the United States Army during the reading, of his paper on "Army Rations," took of the drill suits substance officers have it gotten tied to the seat in the field and at the end of two months the United States would have a reserve army of 500,000 trained men.

New Railroad Directors.

The Union Pacific company is in control on the completion of having railroad connection with Idaho. A large sum of money has been subscribed at Stockholm and other towns in that section, a corps of surveyors placed in the field, and active steps taken for an early beginning of work. The road will probably connect with the Oregon Short Line at or near Shelley. A telegram from Marshfield to Indianapolis to the road says.

The best way is a modern house. Four cities in every subject, on that Main Street.

Under the consolidation of the Clark-Gay, Oregon & Idaho railroad, which was merged...but do for...ago, the following men today appointed directors for the new board of directors of the railroad: J. Chief Engineer Harper reports that he will soon have a second surveying party in the field and commute to push the survey work.

Arizona Water in the West.

The most valuable and magnificent artesian district in the world is in eastern Lincoln County, where many thousands of square miles are underlaid by a thick sheet of water bearing conditions. The water is under such "head" that flows are available to fill but the most shipped basin. As many localities the pressure are from 100 to 200 pounds to the square inch, and some of these high pressure wells furnish power for running many mills. Only a thousand deep wells have been made in the portion of the state lying east of the Missouri river, most of which are from 200 to 1,000 feet deep, but great flows of water continue. The engineers, coming from many wells in Lincoln, to be about ten million gallons a day, and in the largest flowing is forgotten, although part of it runs to waste. It is believed by some persons that owing to the great draft on the waters the available supply is diminishing, but as yet there is no valid evidence that this is the case. Increasing results, where there are numerous wells side together, individual wells often diminish in efficiency, owing to interior stocking of water, but the ordinary wells in the Lincoln vicinity show the same pressure and flow at some point in the wells. Throughout the volume of artesian supply will be practically unlimited eventually.

A curious case disgraced an utility on race in fight in Nashoda, Ont., which has caused a great sensation there particularly among the colored society. Mrs. Lucy Brawley, colored, of Martinsville, Mass., says have on a walk to Nashoda and she has changed from a woman of a dark complexion brown color to one of pure white, so resulting only stops about an hour and a small patch on her chin which still retains the original color.

Search for Treasure.

A Norfolk, Va., dispatch says:

Laughter at times is attempted to interest land still hunters in a proposed search for a sunken treasure about to the Lost Ship. Daily Yen Wagonner, of Hanover county, Va., went to Baltimore and chartered the schooner J. S. Lord. Capt. John O. Davis, and sailed from that port early this week in search of treasure.

Wagonner stated authentically when he was here that he was in possession of the secret of the spot where Captain Duncombe, prior to his surrender to General Washington, commanded a sunken vessel containing $1,000,000 in bullion and diamonds besides value of $500,000.

That the British had sunk this treasure under several yards of sand and earth on the banks of the York River is a tradition that has been verified by the statements of various historians since the days of '76.

Several expeditions have been started in search of the buried chest, but all have failed, because, as Mr. Wagonner declared, the men whom the officers of Lord Cornwallis' staff buried the treasure has since become the bed of York river.

The schooner J. S. Davis, sailing Hampton Roads on Wednesday from Baltimore, and after several additions to the equipment of the vessel had been made she set sail for the mouth of the Rappahannock.

It is understood that Wagonner and Captain Davis intend to make the expedition on half shares. Wagonner furnishing the necessary information and the owner of the schooner the equipment. Wagonner is said to have acquired the secret from one of the crew of a former vessel, who will be picked up by the schooner as she passes on the Rappahannock.

The New in Separate Coats

A differnal and surpassing exhibit of these garments for which a great vogue is certain this season. Skirts take that in correct season, a setting the front, just enough to bring out the flare at the hems, in varying lengths from three-quarter to full length. Many coral Norfolk Jackets are introduced, attributed to the extended waist line and the effective tie-at-the trimmings. To the separate, coat styles of every last dress the ever take contrasted showings. The prices are notably attractive at the separate thereafter.

Exquisite Creations in Tailored Suits

Style touches not present in the ordinary run of suits distinguish our selection. Fashion's seal of approval is accorded every one of these beautiful garments. Smartly tailored two-piece and three-piece suits. In which the dominant note is the unstinted cost. New lines, exaggerations, being exceptionally slender and effective. Short jackets, high Norfolk Effect. Both skirts are generally pleated or tailed. The influence of the "Korean Jacket" is strongly evidenced — as these new styles. Colorings are many, dark shades and the deeper pastel shades being largely favored. There are some rich novelties offered. Materials very goodly, including both wools and cloth finished effects. All in all this is the most sumptuous showing of the authoritative styles in tailored suits to be seen in this vicinity and the wide price range insures satisfactory selections to everyone. We have said nothing about the fit because everyone knows that on that point our suits invariably excel.

Separate Skirts of Correct Style

Our showing includes the new tailored walking skirts and the dressier models for full and presents a wide variety to choose from. Yoke models is the accepted style, for these have the long "diagonal pulled" line of the Norton hips fashions. Pleats are present in the lower portions of these, several skirts and there are lower effects of shaped drapings. Serpentine, ripple and bramleian pleats, and our present skirt showing is one that we have never seen equaled in this vicinity.

Novel Waist Styles for Fall

The opening waist, because of the vogue of the tailored two piece suits in this season an indispensable adjunct to one wardrobe. The new styles trend toward simple effects in serie and net, the best noticeable changes being in the sleeves and neckwear. Our showing embodies all the leading shades and novelty shades and will commend itself to all women of fashion in every detail in style, quality and price.

Stylish Petticoats for Fall

Yes, the new petticoats are stylish. This is due to the fact that the fuller effects of this season make the petticoat an important garment in Miller's wardrobe. The new petticoats are briefly feminine garments, fitting smoothly at the hips and having considerable fullness from the knees down. Many new effects in dessins, messaline and voloutine, and all are here in our superior showing.

CHAPTER XIX.

THERE were retarded residences and innovations in the hotel and Alan Gale this afternoon. Philly and Johnny were in the throes of an overwhelming remorse the order of which might be found from the barracks to the lurking village. They knew nothing of trade, or a cow, but when they did give way to woe they produced a blizzard, pelting with bitter character, their tears garbered on their tender cheeks in little squares. Some which could reach a minimum of moisture to be wept through and harden the air happily with sad gems.

Fabius was about every other person particular. They had fled, for the Virginia Gentleman at the door, on sight. He stood, I'm glad to'm to leave, and they buried their daughter at the very door to the river. Then as if the sight of youth and hope and gladness were not dead enough—

"Whoop, cowboys, clamor! Here's Alan Gale back from the dead! Ain't I? Alive, anyway. Ain't I a sight for sore eyes? Fabius is in Canada!"

The boy, being an egg away, hastened to the kitchen to tell Mammy the glad news, and Alan was left to the mercies of the crowd.

"What's the matter with you there, anyway? Insulted the lieutenant. He had always called them every other name but love. He was a nice man, Billy, and left young 'em, and young 'em, and you should be ashamed of yourself, you should. Why, he's a perfect gentleman, and they loved him. Why, he was one of them, your somewhat blazer.

"Why, you're all alone, all about, Alan. Where's your father? Where's Mammy? Where's Fabius? Where's Philly? Where's Johnny? Where's Billy? Where's Jimmy? Where's Tommy? Where's Jack? Where's Bob? Where's Dick? Where's Tom? Where's Harry? Where's Fred? Where's Ted? Where's Ed? Where's Jim
