Whooping cough in the Meadows.

Mrs. Rosacke returned yesterday from her eastern visit.

Pocatello must sell bonds or close her public schools.

Tom Manning, the chief of Mineral, spent a few hours in Weiser this week.

Married, Mr. Saulbirk, Nov. 1st, Wm. Jewell and Miss May Killoran.

Mrs. Mostie Gwin, of Caldwell, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Hamilton.

The coyotes were howling all Tuesday night, which indicates a big storm within a few days.

Some of the men who robbed the Idaho exhibit at Chicago have been caught and the greater portion of the plunder recovered.

Dr. Binbrook, a Boise physician, was found dead in a badly decomposed state, indicating the body to have lain several days undiscovered.

The SIGNAL is indebted to Hon. Willis Sweet for a copy of Abridged Messages and Documents for 1891-92 and the official directory of Congress.

A spell of bad weather has set in and road work has begun. Had weather held off so long that we began to fear that there would be no road work.

V. D. Hannah returned Monday from Chicago. He got there in time to assist in raising the flag and see the fundral procession of Mayor Harrison.

Stop that New York Goldfing paper and take the Recorder, as large as the Sun, Times, Herald or any of them, and cut and run for silver. Subscriptions taken at this office.

Ben Watlington has gone to Salt Lake with the expectation of making a sale of the Land and Improvement Company's townsite here. He will not return to Weiser.

J. M. Peck was in and reports things across down the Snake at his ferry. We always like to see Jim in town, both for himself and because he seldom fails to replenish our treasury a little.

John Jeane and H. E. Randall have returned from a prospecting tour on the Boise river. They say it is not pleasant sleeping under a blanket these nights.

Married, Mr. Thomas Hopper, of Oregon, and Miss Hoy Crowell, of Monroe creek, on Nov. 5th, by Rev. S. W. Applegate, at the home of the bride's parents.

Messrs. Burt & Guthwaite have placed an order obligations to furnish for a handsome photograph giving a view of the town of Helena, Seven Devils, from the south. We thank the gentlemen for their kind remembrance of us.

The practice of riding on the running gears of your wagon and letting your feet hang down to be caught and smashed against rocks and stumps is a very bad one. Tom Womack, of Salubrik, and S. Potter, of Middle valley, both received painful injuries that way last week.

Alex sends us a short but interesting letter, and we hope he will come again. The SIGNAL does not see why it cannot have a dozen just such short, nice letters from different parts of the county every week. It is no trouble at all to drop us half a dozen lines to let people know how your particular neighborhood is getting along. We are not able to hire correspondents, but will always be found ready to supply them with paper, stamps, envelopes and a lead pencil and two or three copies of the paper, if that want them.

Eat at Radley's Idaho Restaurant Best meals in town.

There will be a free public reception at Cowins' Hall, Friday evening, Nov. 10th, to meet Rev. E. A. Paddock, to which all are cordially invited; given by the ladies of the Congregational Society. There will be music and a general social time is expected.

FROM MINERAL.

Nor long since Parson Gray is quired of recently every woman in town for a cook book. He was shown several, and at last motivated to a lady friend that he was going to marry a couple and was not very much in practice, but was told there was a certain cook book that had the proper ceremony in it, but he failed to find it. After it was well over someone asked how he got along. Said he: I did the best I could, and to wind up with I told the bride she would have to cook her husband's grub, and get up early in the morning to do it, too." The happy couple was Mr. M. K. Higgins and Miss Libbie Bennehoff.

Big Star Drives.

BIG BAR, SNAKE RIVER, Nov. 3.—Times are quite lively in this section of the country this fall. There are a number of men placer mining here and they are all taking out pretty fair pay.

Burt & Guthwaite have got their electric machine started and are handling from four to six yards of gravel a day that will average $2.50 per yard.

John Eskins says it is better weather for ducks than for drying peaches. John looks lonesome now as he meanders through his orchard, brandishing Long Tom, Ajax, and thinks of the Farris wheel and Midway Plaisance.

O. E. Walker is doing assessment work on the Arkansas and is the only miner in the Seven Devils. Snow was about one foot deep there last week.

We all unite in hoping that prosperity will shine on the SIGNAL and that it will soon return to its former sheen. If Washington county cannot support one good paper at the county seat it had better annex to some more enterprising county—Canyon, for instance. AJAX.

Spuds Again.

The Peter Sprout, he had on exhibition a potato weighing five pounds and fifteen ounces; and the SIGNAL felt sure it would never be called down and forced to come off its perch by a larger one, but if Mr. Caldwell Tribune can be induced to let Weiser spend a few days in comparison with one that grew in the incomparable soil of Caldwell. That paper says that Caldwell can be counted on from potatoes to prunes as a spud weighing 8 pounds and 7½ inches, and valued commercially at 22 cents.—Idaho World.

We are well aware that Canyon county is wonderful in its production of big vegetables. We also know that Caldwell is the birth place of many a big vegetable lie; in fact, we believe the Idaho belt is held there, and whether the Tribune's statement is a truthful mention of one of the latest evidences of Idaho's wonderful slime or simply a complexified determination of the vegetable editor to beat us or beat his imagination, is a matter upon which we are undecided. It may be true, but even we, who have gone forth into Idaho gardens, mistook a pumpkin with the aid of a ladder and gazed around on an array of vegetables that suggested a race of Brobdingnagians, find it hard to believe. But supposing it true, we draw the deduction that if the seed mentioned is worth 25 cents considerably is indicates a going price of pretty close to three cents a pound, which indicates an awful scarcity and a hard winter. What they gain in size they lose in scarcity. As Murphys are only one cent a pound here, it shows that what we lack in size we make up in abundance.

Social Report.

Following is the average standing of the pupils in the intermediate department of the Weiser school for month ending Oct. 27. No pupil's name is given whose average is less than 90:

MRS. A. J. CAFFREY, Teacher.

Dog Days Letter.

We have frequently published samples of the letters the paper is continually receiving. We will now give a sample of the kind that are received at the postoffice almost as frequently:

LEADVILLE, COLO., Oct. 9, 1893.

P. M. at Weiser, Idaho: I wrote a letter some days ago to the Land and Improvement Co. at Weiser, but have not received an answer as yet, so I thought to write you a few lines. I would like to have a few copies of the Weiser SIGNAL and will subscribe for it as soon as the office will send it on terms for one year. I would like a general description of your section of country, especially of the valleys lying contiguous to Weiser, and an estimate of distance from Weiser to the different valleys in which is for sale or vacant lands. There are four or five families here who intend to settle in that part of Idaho. How are the winters, and how early does snow disappear in the spring, and how early in the fall does snow commence to fall? Do you have any rainfall? Is there any timber on the hills contiguous to Weiser? Please write me yourself if possible, and if not, hand this to some person who will give me a general description and price of improved land, and the prices of horses, cows, etc., for which I hope to be able to return your kindness in the near future. OLIN SUMMERS.

110 West 12th St., Leadville, Colo.

From the above it can be seen whether the simple glory of the thing compensates for the labor of answering dozens of such letters in full. It can be seen that no one, two, three or sixteen copies of the paper would contain all the particular information desired by such parties. As we have repeatedly repeated and repeated, there is only one thing to do—get up a pamphlet going minutely and accurately into every detail—that a home seeker could ask and keep a big stock on hand to send in reply to all these letters. The man, too, who reads the above letter and is not struck with a chain of thought on how it might look to one who have heard so much about the wonders of Washington county that they think of going there and write for copies of the paper, to receive a demoralized, calamity-plekon-half sheet, certainly deserves a chrome done up in nice, fresh meat.

The Same Company.

The Stutts combination which appeared here last night in "A Celebrated Case," is undoubtedly the best company that has ever appeared in Weiser. They belong to the class which, as a rule, play only in the largest cities, and it is astonishing how so large a troupe can afford to stop in so small a place. The Stutts people are skilled to all thanks for playing in the small towns where such a company is seldom seen. The acting is of the highest character and to say that the audience last night was more than pleased with the performance, is putting it mildly. The depraved rowdies on the outside made [illegible] disconcert for the audience, but that does not detract from the merit of the play. It is assured that such disturbances will not be heard to-night, and the company should be greeted with a much larger house; they are justly entitled to it in every way and those who fail to attend will miss a treat. The bill for to-night is "State's Evidence," and it is guaranteed that by turning out and giving a rousing house you will never regret it.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of La Grippe, when various other remedies and our physicians had done her no good. Robert Barbour, of Cookport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery does him more good than anything in or used for his troubles. Nothing like to try it. At Jenney & Waterhouse's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.00.
