TAKE FIRST HONORS AT THE BIG EXPOSITION

Prize For Agricultural and Horticultural Exhibit at World's Fair Goes to Idaho.

Idaho horticultural exhibit has it as far as they climb. While the grand prize at the St. Louis fair is the enthusiasm of Idaho horticulturists, the agriculturists, the miners and the stockmen of the state is the best in the world. Idaho has thus obtained what ought to be the highest award it is possible to give for agricultural products. In the record the jury considered the quality of the grains and grasses, the manner in which the exhibit was arranged. Then, Commissioner Brown, of Idaho, was rewarded "for" painstaking and artistic manner in presenting the resources of the Gem state." Especially did the Rev. Wessels for the quality of 500 words which went to make up the exhibit. The announcement of the award was made in St. Louis today.

Secretary Brown, of the local commission, sent the following telegram upon the Idaho agricultural exhibit: "It is established, the winning of which is a phenomenal record. Many states spent more than agricultural exhibits alone in the entire superintendent, at the head of the Idaho commission, is especially made the strongest of a bid for the grand prize. Worthwhile" wanted the honor because of the prestige it would give state at the Lewis and Clark exposition and fair. They were powerful backing of the Chicago & Northwestern company. The company installed a magnificent exhibit, spending money right and left to get it. Its work possibly during Seattle Mr. and Mrs. Wessels' wedding along, serving a dollar and a dime there and other little store of cash, saddle horses were broken, others to good substitutes. The Japanese sold their entire exhibit, valued at $60,000, for $1,000. Other states employed expert decorators, Mrs. Wessels did her own work. With dull boards she made the most beautiful designs and fashioned beautiful wreaths out of the superb grains.

California and Colorado put forth their best efforts in the agricultural line but they had to fall in behind Idaho. It was hard for Washington and the Dakotas, with their splendid reputation for wheat growing, to take second place to Idaho grains and grasses. The Colorado display, which displayed some great corn but the Idaho product was the only limited fruit of better growth appearance. The Idaho exhibit made other similar displays look shabby by comparison.

No awards have yet been announced in the horticultural department of the big field. The fruit which Commissioner Brown is confidently claiming for the Idaho exhibit is pronounced magnificent and is attracting unusual attention. The Hamilton apples from the Boise, Weiser and Payette valleys make the display, valuing best description, while the grapes from the vineyards of Robert Bickleiser at Lewiston exhibit the utmost perfection. Superintendent Commissioner G. R. Brown has had at all times the loyal and invaluable support of his associates, and Secretary Reynolds, Idaho has been especially active in securing the best exhibits from the state. Every county in the state is represented and the exhibit will undoubtedly receive many awards.—Statesman.

Lizzy Dalton Pleads Guilty.

Special from Dan Morrison, Jones, 19th inst. says:

Lizzy Dalton, the noted "Soiled Dove" of the Bonna Mining company property, pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the second degree, and was sentenced by Judge Stockslager to 10 years in the penitentiary. She was charged with killing Jack Langford, a miner, on the night of July 4th, 1903, at the Dalton resort in Bonna. Langford was shot through the heart and died instantly. The shooting occurred during a drunken carousal in which Langford and the woman participated. Langford was drunk and abusive and the woman shot him in self-defense, as she claimed. The case was tried twice before, the first trial resulting in a hung jury, the second in a verdict of guilty without recommendation to mercy. The case was appealed to the supreme court, and on a technicality the verdict was set aside and a new trial ordered by the higher court. Following the discharge of the jury, the woman was taken before Judge Stockslager and pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the second degree, and was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary. Her attorneys, Hawley & Puckett, of Boise, had made a strong fight for her acquittal, and when the jury returned a verdict of guilty without recommendation to mercy, they were confident that she would receive a light sentence. Judge Stockslager, however, in passing sentence, said that the crime was a most serious one, and that the woman deserved the full penalty of the law. She will be taken to the penitentiary at once.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Governor Morrison has issued his proclamation setting apart Thursday, November 24, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. The proclamation is as follows:

"In accordance with the time honored custom of our people, I, John T. Morrison, governor of the state of Idaho, do hereby set apart Thursday, November 24, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and I recommend that the people of the state shall on that day cease from their usual occupations and assemble in their respective places of worship and give thanks to Almighty God for the many blessings which he has bestowed upon us during the past year. Let us remember the poor and needy and those who are in distress, and let us not forget the widow and the fatherless. Let us remember the sick and afflicted, and let us not forget to pray for those who are in prisons and penitentiaries, that they may be led to see the error of their ways and be brought to repentance. Let us remember our country in the hands of our rulers, that they may be guided in the right way, and that peace and prosperity may abide within our borders. Let us remember the stranger within our gates, that he may be led to see the light of the gospel and be converted unto God. Let us remember the heathen in darkness, that they may be led to see the light of the gospel and be converted unto God

While the press are talking about the success of voting machines, more of which were used in the last election than ever before, we should not neglect to mention the "disciplinary party" Recall, which is the biggest system on record.

An Eight Million Dollar railroad merger is being planned by the Standard Oil Trust. It is planned to control the entire railroad system of the country and the system included to-tal 198,000 miles. Tax 10 per cent, dividends of the Standard Oil this year will not be smelled by 50 per cent dividends.

Possibly, the military governor of Colorado, who made "Governor Walter" blood to the bridle bit" according to Jack and quiet, established a precedent for other military governors who were taken from their families and homes and shipped out of the state, has been defeated, and it is to be hoped ignorant Colorado will not be stoned to death.

RUSSIA'S PEDIGREMENT.

Those who like to conjecture on the ultimate outcome of the great eastern war now going on and they are exigedly numerous to consider in the fraternal conditions of the two countries and which must of necessity have a great bearing upon the respective abilities of the two countries to pursue their national struggle.

Russia is warlike with the liberal visions of oppression, and, taking advantage of the country's wealth, the victims of such rule are strong their wrongs in a way which to time of peace would be promptly crushed, but which, in present critical times, is very embarrassing to the Czar's government and the danger of internal outbreaks negates the maintenance of thousands of troops at distant points, which would otherwise be available against Japan. On the other hand Japan is a united nation, free of internal discord and moving as one unit [illegible]

Washington, November 17.—The appointment of Senator Dubois, one of the counsels for the government in the Nez Perce land suits, that it will be impossible for his committee to go to Idaho to conduct further investigations in the Sunset case, caused some amusement in Washington, following so close after election. The sentiment has been growing that the senator will not accept Senate, and the sentiment is materially strengthened by the determination to abandon the investigation in Utah. The fact that senator Dubois has been an earnest worker in behalf of the republican ticket, both state and nationally, and that the Mormon question is dead so far as Republican success is concerned, Idaho and Wyoming, being two of the states in the committee have been considered as the most important. The Boise Capital News has the following correspondence from Salt Lake:

Salt Lake this week has been given an object lesson on the [illegible] of big corporations and trusts of importing foreign labor to fill places of American workmen. Since the beginning of the year the Denver & Rio Grande railroad has been constructing a line from Provo to Salt Lake City, a distance of about forty miles. The line parallels the Salt Lake Route and Utah Central railroads. It has been charged that they were in addition to the possibility of new lines, but never before in the annals of railroading in the west has a railroad company imported foreign labor to do the work.

In all interests and purposes he is a mute and it is no exaggeration, to say that he is treated as such.

Simultaneously with this come the news from the republican paper will be established in Salt Lake to take the place of the Tribune, which has thrown in with their political opposition in Montana, church discretion and thus trade for republican favors, which party is now in the ally of the church. The new paper is needed to support republican politics more than ever, with Bible food of foreign labor views, to be fed with those same pabulum. As soon as this 4,000 foreigners can be naturalized, there will be labor harvest over the "gloriously increased republican majorities" in Utah.
