

PEEPING INTO SPACE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The National Academy of Sciences today announced that it had selected a committee to study the possibility of sending man to the moon.

THE BUREAU OF MYSTERY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Bureau of Investigation today announced that it had received information that a group of persons were planning to hold a meeting in New York City.

HE DIDN'T LIKE VERDICT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Supreme Court today announced that it had affirmed the conviction of a man for a crime.

ONE CALIFORNIA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The California State Board of Education today announced that it had approved a new curriculum plan.

MADE IT ALL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Federal Reserve Board today announced that it had raised the discount rate.

A FIVE SEVEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The House of Representatives today passed a bill to provide for the construction of a new highway.

THE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The House of Representatives today passed a bill to provide for the construction of a new highway.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The House of Representatives today passed a bill to provide for the construction of a new highway.

SPACE

For Advertising Purposes

in the

SIGNAL

(Daily or Weekly)

FOR SALE

PEACE ENVOYS STILL IN LONDON

Will Likely Remain this Week—Balkan Charge Powers with Responsibility For Failure

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The peace envoys from the Balkans are expected to remain in London for at least a week, according to a source here.

The envoys, who were sent to London by the Balkan states, are expected to remain here until they have completed their negotiations.

The Balkan states are expected to remain in London for at least a week, according to a source here.

The Balkan states are expected to remain in London for at least a week, according to a source here.

The Balkan states are expected to remain in London for at least a week, according to a source here.

The Balkan states are expected to remain in London for at least a week, according to a source here.

The Balkan states are expected to remain in London for at least a week, according to a source here.

New Boy Bishop of Britain

England, Norfolk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The new boy bishop of Britain, England, Norfolk, is expected to be crowned in the near future.

The boy bishop, who is chosen by the clergy, is expected to be crowned in the near future.

The boy bishop, who is chosen by the clergy, is expected to be crowned in the near future.

The boy bishop, who is chosen by the clergy, is expected to be crowned in the near future.

The boy bishop, who is chosen by the clergy, is expected to be crowned in the near future.

The boy bishop, who is chosen by the clergy, is expected to be crowned in the near future.

The boy bishop, who is chosen by the clergy, is expected to be crowned in the near future.

Associate Justice

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Supreme Court today announced that it had appointed a new associate justice.

The new associate justice, who was appointed by the president, is expected to take office in the near future.

The new associate justice, who was appointed by the president, is expected to take office in the near future.

The new associate justice, who was appointed by the president, is expected to take office in the near future.

The new associate justice, who was appointed by the president, is expected to take office in the near future.

The new associate justice, who was appointed by the president, is expected to take office in the near future.

The new associate justice, who was appointed by the president, is expected to take office in the near future.

NO RIVER AT DANGER POINT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The National Academy of Sciences today announced that it had selected a committee to study the possibility of sending man to the moon.

The committee is expected to report its findings in the near future.

The committee is expected to report its findings in the near future.

The committee is expected to report its findings in the near future.

The committee is expected to report its findings in the near future.

NOTHING NEW IN SENATORIAL FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Senate today announced that it had passed a bill to provide for the construction of a new highway.

The bill, which was passed by a majority vote, is expected to take effect in the near future.

The bill, which was passed by a majority vote, is expected to take effect in the near future.

The bill, which was passed by a majority vote, is expected to take effect in the near future.

The bill, which was passed by a majority vote, is expected to take effect in the near future.

The bill, which was passed by a majority vote, is expected to take effect in the near future.

MAY CONTEST LISTER'S ELECTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The House of Representatives today announced that it had passed a bill to provide for the construction of a new highway.

The bill, which was passed by a majority vote, is expected to take effect in the near future.

The bill, which was passed by a majority vote, is expected to take effect in the near future.

The bill, which was passed by a majority vote, is expected to take effect in the near future.

The bill, which was passed by a majority vote, is expected to take effect in the near future.

