"It appeared that I knew the officer in charge, and he knew me and was rather prolegate to his discomfort toward me for he was one of those of the court martial who condemned my brother—I told him, truly enough, that I had been a non-resident and had obtained his complete pardon; that I had sent the papers at Hartlemount, where he last made me a promise, and again at Boughton; and, moreover, he had released it. I was now on my way home. That was all. The officer was very glad indeed to hear of my success and said, what was also true, that he had carefully reported the circumstances, and that the court could not do otherwise with the evidence before it. Non-residence is by law to the seating of Senators, of Rhoades, of the Idaho house. The party has thoroughly established the precedent that non-residents in county or state is no bar to county or state claims to representative positions that it cannot afford to go back on legalities.

The testimony in the Smoot case has developed that seven of the church officials who signed the petitions for amnesty (which was granted under the promise of which Utah was admitted) have continued to live in polygamy in disregard of their solemn covenants.

The statement of Smoot that "many witnesses are the flowers of Utah and Idaho citizens" caused the Salt Lake Tribune to "reckon" a month's careful consideration showing Smoot lying yesterday at full length upon a bed of roses scented like the "Lily of the Valley" and called it "French," "Millefleurs," and other blushing beauties of the conservatory.

Ever since the Evening Bulletin was purchased on account of its anti-Mormon sentiments and turned over to the Capital News, the latter has had no more a specialty of a "Salt Lake Letter" which is a mere excuse for the Mormon library boxes to defend the iniquities of the church. Since the democratic party of Idaho has stripped itself of further leadership other sectarianized forces, it is well that the News has been cast out of the party.

...that there now living bi-polygamy. It is...idaho should not be deserted. It was smoked out by the investigating committee into contradicting himself and later asserting that they should be punished.

The Montpelier Examiner, one of the ablest democratic papers which deserted the democratic party when it refused to say longer trouble to the Mormon church, in sending becomes the Boise Statesman received, the bill pointing of the legislature and remarks, "In which there is much truth" as follows:

The Statesman's attitude at the time the bill came up in committee of the whole was entirely consistent and intelligent. It was entirely in harmony with the Democratic state platform program, and its subsequent retraction when it stated that such an action had been unfavorably received upon the public by democratic and labor speeches in the house and senate, republican papers, and republican campaign managers with the avowed purpose of injuring democratic success in the approaching campaign" is the most unintelligible "slapping over" in the points which we have in spite of the opposition, furnish the public with two examples of it. We many inconsistent, contradictory, dishonest and unpardonable methods. And yet it seems to be found and endorsed and to be considered "a thing of beauty" and "a joy forever."

The Statesman's wrath and the Examiner's desertion of the democratic party may or may not tend to be due to the fact that it is edited by Avery D. Bolton, son of Bishop Bodge, who lives with them wives.

1877 IS MR. FRENCH.

Mr. French, your party is in line created in the House of Representatives, therefore, with the wisdom, ability and high statesmen which it has been represented to the people, are scarcely endowed with, it should not be indifferent for you to pass on the Smoot legislation, for the result of your action. Last year Senator Heyburn's full length upon a bed of roses scented like the "Lily of the Valley" and called it "French," "Millefleurs," and other blushing beauties of the conservatory.

INSECURITY SCATTED.

While the Caldwell Tribune is one of the best known republican journals in Idaho, it belongs to the almost extinct species of the democratic party of Idaho, and is likely to continue so. It is a waste of time for the republicans to read its belligerent forceful sermons upon the insincerity and deceit of its party of late has proposed. It is a waste of time for the republicans to read its belligerent forceful sermons upon the insincerity and deceit of its party of late has proposed.

Mr. Heyburn, who is now in Washington, has been in the senate for a number of years. He has been a leader in the republican party in Idaho, and has been a leader in the republican party in Idaho, and has been a leader in the republican party in Idaho, and
