Robert Burns' Poem.

Robert Burns, though he had the choice of such poets as the Scotchies "Lectie on the Gospel Understanding" and Pope, together with odd pieces of Shakespeare, which formed the simple reading of his home, nevertheless stood next to an old collection of sermons. "Alas," he says, "was my youthful reward! I never ever then dreamt my task or walking to heaven by word, verse or by verse, carefully noting the true, barren and sublime from affectation and fustian. I am convinced I owe to this retentive search of my little craft, such as it is!"—Ali the Tea Board.

Methodist Epistle Discovered.

Here is a pen portrait of Robert Lee Hutchison, written by Dr. Alexander H. Nagy: "But as all probably are to assure at first sight from his extreme talkativeness, but the man and his words are as otherwise unlike their so distinguished. Head of the type, carried well on the shoulders, and in profile, with the impression of being a little forward-looking; long heavy hair, usually tossed carelessly about; a wonderful brilliant Spanish type of soft felt hat, Buckwheat-cigar; loose hint of freedom over when walking and invariable velvet jacket inside the house."

Mrs. Butler Never Grieves.

A man is always in connection to the quantity, the quality and the number of forms which he selects from others. He is a person by comparing to his or her outside quality, usually not usually—with his kind and a weak flag just in connection on his own kind of from others.—Spring.

After the Defendants.

Justice Partner-J. never suspected him at all. Senior Partner—Neither did I, although it did seem a little singular to me that he should be able to pay $2,000 a year out of a salary of $1,500.—New York Press.

We have will be hired who does not sometimes hope or fear beyond the limits of sober probability.—Johnson.

From The Eagle.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Perkins has been very ill for a week past, but is improving.

Mrs. James Biggs has been quite ill at her home in the upper end of the valley for the last two weeks.

Dr. Brown was called from Council on Wednesday to attend Mrs. Bert Moss at Landa. Bert was called home from Boise, where he had gone for the sake of the climate, with consumption, but the change did not help him any, and he died Monday morning. The remains arrived here on Wednesday evening, and the funeral was held Thursday afternoon.

Charley Stockdale's Four-horse team ran away last Saturday after Dr. Foster demonstrated his ability as a splitter by taking down the street after the runaways, over telegraph poles and finishing into the wagon, pulling half of the lines and stopping them.

Rev. Guy Foster preached his farewell sermon to a goodly audience on Sunday. As stated a few weeks ago, Mr. Foster has accepted a call to a church in Kansas City, and will leave Council for the scene of his new labors in a few weeks. During the two years that he has been visiting this place he has won and held the esteem of all who have come to know him and his departure is universally regretted.

Will Rigor of this valley, was painfully injured yesterday by the explosion of his double barreled shotgun, with which he was attempting to shoot a chicken hawk. The gun was blown all to pieces and Will received a ragged and ugly cut just over the right eye through the eyelid in two places. Several other lacerations about the face and neck, but no serious damage was done.
