Who is Stealing the Goose Egg?

Being a little talk on the Golden Egg the Goose laid.

This is the season of the year when all nature is arraying itself in new regalia. The trees are putting forth leaves in their bright hues and multudinous shades, the flower kingdom is bursting forth in a blaze of Glory, the birds have emerged in a new coat of feathers and so it is throughout the world.

It is the law of nature in its manifestation. Manhood and womanhood must and is following the same law.

Those of us who have not yet purchased new raiment for the summer are keenly aware of the need.

And it is not only in the matter of wearing apparel that we outfit ourselves anew in the Spring. The farmer needs and must have new machinery, the house must be redecorated and have new furniture and so it is---in all lines of activity new and better articles are demanded in this, the springtime of the year.

What are you doing Mr. Man---Mrs. Woman, you Buyers?

Are you consulting the catalogues of concerns that are doing business in some distant city or are you buying your new plumage of the home merchant? --The man who helps make your community.

Who ever heard of a Chicago firm helping toward good roads in Washington County or a park in Weiser?

Your home merchant sells at prices that compare favorably with the distant house and he is here on the ground to back up his guarantee.

WHAT YOU WILL VOTE UPON.

There still seems to be a wrong impression as to whether all the city improvements are to be voted upon in one proposition or whether part of them may be carried without the others.

There are four distinct propositions on the call for the election. One is for enlarging and extending the waterworks system; another is to organize your present city sewer system; another is for the issuance of $50,000 bonds, and the other proposition is for granting the streets outside of the paved districts and not the building of sidewalks in different parts of town. The voters who favor the proposition can be carried separately and all the others defeated; the sewer proposition can be carried separately and all the others defeated; the paving proposition can be carried separately and all the others defeated and the sidewalk proposition could meet the same fate. Any one proposition can be carried or defeated. The first, however, is the most important, as the voters will be voting on whether or not they favor issuing a bond of money to pay the costs over the

COLE BROS. CIRCUS

The Yakima Republic, the leading newspaper of North Yakima, Wash., and a very strong Taft organ, does not believe the claims of Manager McClellar concerning the number of votes Mr. Taft has. The Republic says:

We doubt whether Mr. Taft's comrade any such number of delegates as Manager McKinley claims. He does not, and will not, control much of anything in the convention. He has by character demonstrated his incapacity to run for the presidency successfully that the obligations which bind the nominal Taft delegates will all vary greatly when the meeting is held.

The Republic is very much enlightened, and other papers in respect to him in a very uncomplimentary manner it continues:

The outcome of the convention will be the selection of neither Taft, Roosevelt nor LaFollette, in our opinion. The Wisconsin man is a radical who cannot unite the party and upon whose head there is no chance of the convention adjourning together. The feeling is rampant among Republicans that Roosevelt has already been defeated, and the Taft people are claiming victory. There are some who think Roosevelt might be elected, but we doubt it as majority of the opposition will accept that view of the situation.

The nomination of a new man would undoubtedly be the best solution of the present, which will confuse the convention. There is no particular good reason for the re-nomination of Taft, in view of the fact that the people generally do not favor him again. There are many good reasons why Roosevelt should not be named.

WHO CAN VOTE ON THE BONDS.

As there is considerable discussion as to just who is entitled to vote at the coming bond election it might be well at this time to settle the question in the minds of those in doubt. The law provides that all taxpayers who pay taxes on property assessed in the city of Weiser who own real property, taxpayers only, and who is qualified to vote at city elections, and not any other real or personal tax. Many have thought that only resident real estate owners could vote, but this is not the case. All who pay personal tax will also have the right to express themselves. This does not include city license tax or tax on dogs, but the assessed assessed personal property such as livestock, household goods or merchandise.

MORE WATERWORKS TALK.

There are those now talking that the waterworks system is the best improvement in our waterworks system, and for that reason the Signal wishes to give a few facts which go to show that our present system is not adequate.

The estimated cost of the new system is $175,000. This includes the new reservoir, with a capacity of 800,000 gallons, or enough to supply 20,000 people for one day. The present pumping plant has a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons per hour or 1,500,000 in 24 hours, or enough to supply a city of 12,000 people. This is with every two pumps working while the capacity can be doubled with both pumps in action. With the present system laid to receive it will cost $60,000 more to extend to 12,000 people. This includes the cost of the mains in Weiser for another 20 years to come. The plans are to be extended to all parts of the city where there are any homes and so it is safe to predict there will be no expense for extensions for several years unless Weiser has a more rapid growth than is customary with other towns. A new 16-inch main is to be laid from the intake to the county road north of the city. Cost $30,000. From the 16-inch main will be extended to the existing distribution system by 8-inch mains. This extension will be completed and the homes and farms in the intervening territory will not be obliged to pay for the privilege of connecting with the mains. Under the present system the rate will be $1.50 per month for the first 5 rooms, $1.00 for each additional room, and $1.00 for each bath. Under the new system the rate will be $1.00 per month for the first 5 rooms, $1.00 for each additional room, and $1.00 for each bath. Under the present system the rate will be $1.00 per month for the first 5 rooms, $1.00 for each additional room, and $1.00 for each bath. Under the new system the rate will be $1.00 per month for the first 5 rooms, $1.00 for each additional room, and $1.00 for each bath.

POPULARITY OF BASEBALL.

Qualities In the Game That Endear it to the Public.

There must be special qualities in a game that can fill—and keep filled—a million or more of hard-headed, hard-fisted Americans four days in every week of the year. What are these qualities? There is no attempt to define them.

First—Efficiency. No other game ever devised by the wit of man has such a perfect test of individual efficiency. It puts no restrictions on a contestant's physique, or on the way he shall do his work. It is entirely open to the individual to develop his own methods, his own style, his own individuality—all, that is, except the one thing that counts, efficiency. Every man is on his own. He succeeds or fails by himself. He is not helped by his fellows, nor is he hindered by them. He is not dependent on the success or failure of his fellows. He is not penalized by the inefficiency of his fellows. He is not rewarded by the efficiency
